

Final press release

6th May 2014

Dundalk Chamber Welcomed The American Embassy.

Dundalk Chamber hosted another very successful Embassy visit when The American Embassy came to Dundalk and met with local companies in order to forge business links.

On Friday 2nd May Ms Finola Cunningham, Head of Commercial Service of the American Embassy and Ms Katherine Vachawski from Rhode Island took part in a series of one-to-one meetings with various companies from around the North-East.

This is just one in a series of many visits which Dundalk Chamber has organized with the meetings taking place in Oriel Shared Services in the Finnabair Business Park.

Ms Cunningham was delighted with the number and variety of contacts and hoped that the visit would benefit the Irish companies she met with.

Ms Cunningham also stated that if schedule allows she may be able to return to Dundalk in the future to meet with more companies in the hope of forging business links between Ireland and America.

She also thanked the Dundalk Chamber of Commerce for giving her the opportunity to explain the activities of the Head of Commercial Service of the American Embassy.

This is just another example of the Chamber creating new links for local companies.

Due to the success of the meetings, Dundalk Chamber will play host to more Embassies in the near future, including The Hungarian and Brazilian Embassies in the next few months, details of which can be found on www.dundalk.ie

If your company would like to attend one of these free meetings please call Alice or Colm in Dundalk Chamber on 042 9336343 or email certs@dundalk.ie
